Acceptable Use Policy for Students & MLI

Newcastle ISD computers, chromebooks and network resources are provided by the School for student and faculty use for academic purposes. As a member of a computerized community, each user recognizes that access to technology is a privilege and not a right. Further, each of us acknowledges personal responsibility for content and conduct in connection with his or her user account. Parent/guardian permission is required for student use.

It is expected that users will comply with stated standards as they are listed below. The School will make every effort to communicate these standards and to supervise the activities of its users. In this light, administrators may review files and communications to maintain system integrity and to ensure that users are using the system responsibly. Users should not expect that files stored on the School's servers or within the School's Google Apps for Education domain to be private.

Individual users are expected to abide by the generally accepted rules of technology etiquette, the School's rules as stipulated in its handbooks, and all relevant state and federal laws in the use of Newcastle ISD networks and systems. Because the Newcastle ISD computers and network are for educational as opposed to recreational use, unless under the direction of a faculty member, the following types of activities will not be permitted:

- Game playing while in instructional setting
- Sending personal email
- Altering the appearance of the desktop, cursors, or other icons.
- Downloading or streaming music and video files
- Using flash drives to run programs or circumvent the Acceptable Use Policy
- Sending, displaying, or storing offensive messages, pictures or sound files (i.e., music or personal email)
- Using obscene language or harassing, insulting, or attacking others
- Damaging computers, computer systems, software, or computer networks
- Violating copyright laws
- Downloading or copying software to or from School computers
- Using anyone else's identity, user ID, or password or otherwise gaining unauthorized access to computing or network resources
- Using the School's computers or networks for commercial purposes

Violations may result in the loss of privileges as well as other disciplinary or legal action.

Student

As a user of the Newcastle ISD technology, I hereby agree to comply with all current and future rules.

Parent/Guardian

As the parent or legal guardian of the minor student signing above, I grant permission for this student to access networked computer services, such as electronic mail and the Internet, for educational purposes on the Newcastle ISD School campus. I understand that some materials on the Internet may be objectionable, and I accept responsibility for reinforcing School policy with respect to Internet use and all other computer use policies as set forth in this Agreement.

Recognition of Ethical Computer Conduct Beyond Campus

Blogs, or “weblogs” (“web” + “log”), have become popular forms of communication and socialization in today’s technologically oriented society. Sites/Apps such as Snapchat, Instagram and facebook are examples of many online diaries where people can engage in “cyber socializing.” Newcastle ISD recognizes that this is a part of the digital world in which our students are most comfortable. The School also knows that its direct control over a student’s use of technology is limited to his or her time on campus.

Still, we believe that we have a duty in preparing students to be ethical participants in an interdependent and technologically driven world to educate them to the potential perils and realities of blogging, web-page authoring, instant and text messaging, and other forms of electronic communication. As such, we share the following points of consideration:

- 1) Keep in mind that whatever you post on a public blog or electronic space can be seen by your friends, your enemies, your teachers, your parents, college admissions officers, and potential employers; before you reveal personal information online, carefully consider whether you want that to be public now and in the future.
- 2) Expect the School administration to take note of and, if necessary, disciplinary action in response to information communicated on public sites that:
  - conveys a physical threat toward a Newcastle ISD student, teacher, or administrator;
  - advocates for the immediate violation of any laws or school rules;
  - defames or denigrates individuals affiliated with the Newcastle ISD community;
  - impersonates any member of the Newcastle ISD community;
  - encourages other students to read, post, or send comments to you or your blog/social media site while at School;
  - suggests that one’s blog, website, or other electronic communication is sponsored by or affiliated with the School.

As the leaders of tomorrow, we would hope and expect the Newcastle ISD students of today to set positive examples through their words and actions, both on and off campus. The Information Age has challenged us to redefine the rules of etiquette and civility when it comes to appropriate communication. We would urge you, as you consider what constitutes an appropriate and civil representation of yourself, to ask: “will my actions reflect well upon my family, my School, and me?”

Student

I hereby signify that I have read this statement on Ethical Computer Use Beyond Campus.

Parent/Guardian

As the parent or legal guardian of the minor student signing above, I hereby signify that I have read this statement on Ethical Computer Use Beyond Campus.
